Kallah 2020 is sponsored by a grant from The Kallah Project and Adath Israel Congregation, with support from the Leon Siskowitz Cultural Memorial Fund.

Be a part of something special!

What is Kallah 2020?

It's an unforgettable weekend of friendship, community, and a joyous celebration of Shabbat in a casual and relaxed setting! This program is specifically designed for Adath Israel members, family and friends. It's a relaxing weekend experience that celebrates all that Shabbat has to offer within a kehillah (community).

Dress down Shabbat: Casual and comfortable attire for the Kallah. We encourage you to bring friends, family, wine, games, and books.

What will we do at the Kallah?

We begin with welcoming you and giving you time to get settled. Then we gather for an opening activity followed by a singing, swinging Kabbalat Shabbat. Dinner is followed by an evening program and special Oneg. Then you may retire to your room or relax and shmooze with old and new friends.

Saturday morning begins with a leisurely breakfast, continues with engaging Shabbat services, followed by lunch. Then we will enjoy free time (snooze, shmooze or stroll or relax with a good book). During this time you have a variety of options: sport activities or games, study sessions, or free time. Next, it's time for dinner followed by the sights, sounds, and smells of Havdallah.

Sunday morning it's time to wake up, daven and if you wish, learn to put on tefillin, eat-up, wrap-up and pack-up.

Religious observance . . .

People observe Shabbat in many different ways. To make everyone feel comfortable, we will not write, use the phone, or let our phones ring in public areas. In the privacy of your room, you may observe Shabbat as you wish.

Location . . .

Kallah 2020 will be held at the Pearlstone Center, 5425 Mount Gilead Road, Reisterstown, Maryland (MD) 21136. For details about this lovely facility, its most comfortable accommodations, and directions, please visit their website, www.pearlstonecenter.org. Pearlstone Center is under kosher supervision. All of Pearlstone's public and common areas are accessible for individuals with physical disabilities plus 6 accessible lodge room and bathrooms.

When does the Kallah begin and end?

Registration:

Friday, May 15, 2020 from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.

We encourage you to arrive and settle in before Shabbat begins. However, we request that you advise us if this may not be possible.

L'hitraot (Farewell):

Sunday, May 17, 2020 at 10:00 a.m.

What participants said about previous years' Kallahs . . .

"Food was fantastic - healthy, lots of choices."

"Considering how it often feels like our community is fragmented and disinterested, it was great to see the focus on building community."

"Great opportunity for kids to run around with each other in a safe environment."

"I loved the organization of the weekend, variety of activities, our clergy's participation and [the artist-in-residence]'s inspiration."

"[I liked] how services were in a different and refreshing style."

"It was clearly a space for all participants of all ages."

"[I liked] being able to spend the weekend with other families."

"A deeper Shabbat experience than usual."

"Beautiful setting, rooms, grounds, facility. Solid structure, relaxed feeling. Good communication with clear instructions. Continuous drinks/snacks. Great contributions from many people."

"[I liked the] spirituality and sense of community."
