TRENTON, N. J.

Dec. 12th. 1927.

Cong. Adath Israel,

Dear President:

I exceedingly regret the occasion that necessitates my addressing this letter to you, for I had all this time hoped that there would be no need of it. However, I find that conditions are not improving if anything it is the other way.

I had joined your congregation with the full belief that you were going to have a strictly Orthodox Congregation; my acquaintance and friendship for so many years, with most of the members of the Congregation, warranted that belief. I had hoped that the true, genuine spirit of Shem-orthodoxy, would be clothed with the beauty of Yefeth-modernism.

And even when you began to drift from our ancestors' path, I still hoped that you would not err for very long. Realizing, however, that you are set for an entirely different road and that you have no intention of repenting and returning, we have decided to resign from your Congregation, so as not to actively help that which is against our principals and traditions.

You will please have our names removed from your membership list, and at any time you will decide to resume the traditional path of our fathers, we shall be glad to rejoin you.

Respectfully yours,
